London Rolling Film Festival Sheds Light on Powerful Social Issues and Intricate Human Drama Explored in Selected Films

London, UK - 28 July 2023

The London Rolling Film Festival proudly presents its official selection of short films, each offering thought-provoking insights into a wide range of social issues and captivating human experiences. With a diverse lineup of exceptional films, this year's festival promises to be a thought-provoking exploration of the complexities of life, relationships, and our connection with nature.

Get ready to embark on an emotional rollercoaster with these riveting films:

1. "A Dose of Nature" by Chiara Brambilla: When traditional medicine fails, nature holds the key to healing chronic pain. Join us on a soul-stirring journey of resilience and the unbreakable bond between humans and the natural world.

2. "A Mind Full" by Steve Whiteley: Mindfulness can bring inner peace, but when anger takes the wheel, it's a whole new struggle. Explore the transformative power of mindfulness and the battle with inner demons in this gripping tale.

3. "Aborted" by Lee Bamsey: In a world with a global pregnancy ban, one brave couple defies all odds to protect their unborn child. Brace yourself for a heart-pounding story of fear, courage, and the fight for life.

4. "Playtime" by Jasper Shah: Regrets and the road not taken - we've all been there. Follow Jack's quest for answers as he rediscovers a lost passion and grapples with the choices that shape our destinies.

5. "SONAR" by James Hughes: Late-night mysteries unfold when a swimmer stumbles upon an unusual sound. Dive into the unknown with this thrilling exploration of curiosity and discovery.

6. "Stay Behind" by Federica Schiavello: Unravel the secrets of Italy's clandestine paramilitary operation during the 1980s. This gripping true story delves into politics, crime, and a hidden side of history.

7. "The Cocoon" by David Shen Miller: Perfectionism can be a trap, and beauty lies in imperfection. Join us on an awe-inspiring journey of self-discovery and the pursuit of true authenticity.

8. "Speaker" by Alan Hamwan: Witness an act of bravery as a disabled grocer steps up to protect a girl in danger. This heartwarming tale showcases the strength of the human spirit in the face of adversity.

9. "Night Moves" by Jamie Culter: Love, departure, and the complexities of relationships - explore the tender moments shared between two souls as they navigate life's inevitable changes.

This year London Rolling Film Festival is dedicated to promoting films that shed light on pressing social issues, human relationships, and our intricate connection with nature. Through the lens of talented filmmakers, these selected films offer a powerful cinematic experience that will leave audiences reflecting on the multifaceted nature of the human experience.

Alida Pantone, Festival Director, expresses her excitement: "This year's film selection is a testament to the power of storytelling. These films touch on the most profound aspects of human existence, taking us on a journey that will linger in our hearts and minds long after the credits roll."
